Multi-Million Blaze Hits Baltimore Famed Troopship As Plane Is Swept By Fire

George Washington, Which Carried Woodrow Wilson To France In 1918, Is Left In Ruins

BALTIMORE—(AP)—A multi-million-dollar fire Tuesday night ate away a wartime ammunition pier, gutted the old troopship which took Woodrow Wilson to France in 1918, and brought injury to seven men.

Also lost in the blaze which roared on through the night were a tugboat and barges of equipment used for Maryland's new Chesapeake bay bridge.

Only one of the fire fighters had to go to a hospital. The others suffered minor injuries.

By 9 p.m. the blaze was hemmed in with no apparent danger of spreading. But the pier and vessels kept on burning.

PIER VALUED $5 MILLION.

There were no estimates of damage to the pier was valued at $5,000,000. The George Washington on which President Wilson sailed 33 years ago was recommissioned for World War II for $8,800,000, but its present value was not figured.

A Bethlehem Steel official said the old ship—decommissioned in 1947—couldn't be built new for less than $25,000,000 or $30,000,000.

The maritime commission and the FBI began investigations while flames still lighted the waters around Hawkins Point, south of Baltimore.

Firemen who withdrew from the pier said the fire would just go on until it burned out.

Saved from the mess was the Gen. Edmund B. Alexander, another transport. Like the George Washington, she had been decommissioned.

Country Club Finances In Good Shape

The financial condition of Lincoln Country club has "definitely improved" in the last year, it was learned by 230 members who attended the annual dinner at the club Tuesday night.

Following the dinner, three new members were elected to the board of directors. They are:

L. L. Reed
C. S. Guenzel
George E. Salladin
Other members of the nine-man board include:
Don Pegler
Dr. Norman Carlson
Emmett Junge
Dr. William Rotten
G. G. Chambers
Burham Yates

M. G. Vols presided at the meeting. Tom Harvey, manager of the club, said the election of officers would take place next week at another evening meeting.

Doomed Man's Wife Keeps Vigil

Mrs. Sundahl And Children Await Outcome

BY BILL DOBLER

(Star Staff Writer)

What would you do if your husband, wife, brother or sister was sentenced to die in the electric chair within three months?

Mrs. Helen Sundahl was quick to answer that question for herself. Her husband, Roland Dean Sundahl, is now in the state penitentiary in Lincoln. He has been sentenced to die in the electric chair on April 2 for the slaying of a 16-year-old Columbus girl. "I'm going to stay right here in Lincoln," she said, "and do all I can to help my husband. I will stay here until he is executed if that is the way it goes or I will wait here for him while he serves his term if his sentence is commuted."

'Wonderful Friends'

Also waiting will be the Sundahl's two children, Andrea, 15 months old, and Leonard Erick, two years old.

Mrs. Sundahl came to Lincoln from Norfolk Jan. 2.

"I was not sure how the people here would receive me and the children," she said, "but I can say now they have been wonderful. I don't know what I would do if it wasn't for all my friends here."

2 Visits A Month.

Mrs. Sundahl lives in Husker-ville. She had little in the way of home furnishings when she came to Lincoln. Now, thanks to the friends she has made, she has coal in her bin, a linoleum on the floor of her house, a baby bed for Andrea, warm clothes, bed covers, groceries and other essentials.

Not very rewarding, though, has been her trip to Lincoln in other respects. She is only allowed to see her husband twice a month.

"I can hardly believe it yet," she related, "that he could have done what he's accused of."

'He Wasn't Cruel'

"I feel he wasn't responsible for what he did. It just wasn't in his nature to be cruel. I remember one night when he worked for hours in the cold to free a little dog caught in a fence."

"If the fair thing is done, I believe his sentence will be commuted. It is not exactly punishment to him anyway to die in the electric chair as his suffering is over after his death. He

Kuhner's Claim Is Rejected

Board Member Is Undecided On Next Move For $250 Pay

Lancaster county Commissioner Chris Kuhner refused Tuesday afternoon to divulge what action, if any, he may take in regard to his salary claim.

His claim for $250 as his January salary was rejected by his two fellow commissioners Tuesday.

Story In Star Is Cause Of Action

A story in the Tuesday Morning Star focused attention on the claim. Had the story not appeared, Kuhner's salary claim would not have come up at Tuesday's meeting and thus would have stood approved. The story resulted directly in the claim's rejection.

day noon after several false starts and a five-minute "back-room conference."

Kuhner did not vote on the motion, which was made by Russell Brehm. Both Brehm and Chairman E. Barney voted "aye."

Barney Withdrews

Barney earlier moved that the claim be reduced from $250 to $200. Kuhner's past salary. His motion failed for lack of votes. Both Brehm and Kuhner abstained voting. A bit later, Barney crossed his signature from the claim.

He admitted Tuesday he did not know the claim included the $50 raise—as both he and Brehm will receive—when he attached his signature a few days ago.

"I was not cognizant of any salary increase . . . I signed it as a routine matter," he declared.

Ten Killed As Plane Hits Field

Craft Misses House, Bursts Into Flames In East Washington

EDWALL, Wash. — (AP) — A twin-engine passenger plane carried 10 persons to their deaths Tuesday as it hurtled down through the snow and crashed near an eastern Washington farmhouse.

The Northwest Airlines plane crashed and caught fire as it struck the ground near the farm home of L. E. Bundy.

The Seattle office said the crew of three—part of the total of 10 aboard—were Lloyd Richmond, pilot; Ed Gander, co-pilot; and Joan Tabor, stewardess, all from Seattle.

Grim Out There

"The plane exploded about 50 rods (about 800 feet) from our house," Mrs. Bundy said.

"There were no big pieces left at all. The biggest I saw was a wheel but I didn't get very close. There was no sign of life. It was pretty grim out there."

The airlines station said it had lost contact with the plane about 13 minutes after it took off from the Spokane municipal field for Yakima.

The passengers listed by the company: C. Edwards, Yakima, Wash.; W. J. Craft, San Francisco; Robert R. Mann, Tacoma, Wash.; Mr. and Mrs. G. J. Milligan, Fairfax, Va.; Charles Wood, Seattle; and W. H. Goodlowe, San Francisco.

Fifth Fatal Mishap

WASHINGTON—(AP) — Northwest Airlines has twice voluntarily grounded the Martin 202 transports, the type which crashed Tuesday near Edwall, Wash., with 10 persons aboard.

Tuesday's accident was the fifth fatal one for the type and the fourth in scheduled operations by Northwest. Only one accident has been attributed to structural failure.

Ice Breaks: 3 Motorists Die

MUSCATINE, Ia.—(AP)—Three men drowned in the Mississippi river Tuesday night when the automobile in which they were riding crashed through the ice 10 miles south of here.

The men were en route upstream on the frozen river to a seining hole near Bass Island when the car broke through the ice.

Byrnes Calls For Bombing Of Red China

COLUMBIA, S. C.—(AP)—Gov. James F. Byrnes, in an inaugural address devoted mainly to the dangers of war, called Tuesday for the bombing of communist China, and said that if such action is not authorized, American troops should be pulled out of Korea.

He urged, even more emphatically, that American soldiers and military supplies should be sent to shore up western Europe.

The ceremonies inducting the former Supreme court justice and one-time "assistant president" into the governorship of South Carolina brought an estimated 65,000 people into the state house square and packed the streets for eight blocks around it.

In the audience were scores of nationally prominent figures, officials and policymakers.

They listened in careful silence but burst into wild applause when the former secretary of state said:

"If the United Nations is unwilling promptly to declare China an aggressor, authorize our air force to attack the supply bases of the enemy, and join in blockading China, then our forces should be withdrawn from Korea."

He acknowledged the possibility that this might bring on war with Soviet Russia. But he said, "that is the counsel of fear, which I reject."

Drawing on his experience as secretary of state in 1945 and 1946, when he had long firsthand experience with the Russians, Byrnes said: "I know that the Soviet leaders understand only the language of force. A firm stand by a united people may deter them from war. A timid course by a divided people will certainly encourage them to make war."

Defense Housing Plans Run Into New Opposition

$3 Billion Program Offers Threat Of Ruinous Inflation, Robertson Warns

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Fresh opposition arose in the senate Tuesday to President Truman's proposed $3,000,000,000 housing program. Sen. Roberton (D-Va.) questioned whether the nation can afford to risk "ruinous" inflation by superimposing such an outlay on a $60,000,000,000 defense budget.

"Inflation might be as ruinous to us as defeat on the battlefield," Robertson said as the senate banking committee opened hearings on the new bill which—like most of the items in the president's budget—carries a defense label.

The Virginian addressed his remarks to Raymond M. Foley, housing and home finance administrator, who presented the measure and urged its approval as a stand-by device to provide housing particularly in defense centers and around military installations.

Robertson noted the president is asking for at least $16,000,000,000 in new taxes, but he said that neither high taxes nor wage-price controls would be able to "stem the tide of inflation if we are going to pour over the precipice" huge new sums in housing credit. The bill calls for a $3,000,000,000 increase in the mortgage insurance authority of the federal housing administration.

Hold Two Suspects In Car Prowling

Two Lincoln men have been arrested in connection with a pair of car prowling cases reported to police Tuesday.

The men, 23 and 18 years old, are being held for questioning by the county attorney's office, Inspector Eugene H. Masters said.

James Williams said a $3.40 hunting light battery was stolen from his car and I. W. Kelly, jr., reported two boxes of shotgun shells, worth about $3.75, missing.

Cook Faces Kidnap Trial In Oklahoma

Federal Charge May Mean Death Penalty

SAN DIEGO, Calif.—(AP)—William E. Cook, 23-year-old desperado wanted for murder in two states, will be tried in Oklahoma City on federal kidnapping charges.

The southwest gunman, captured in Mexico Monday after a two-week international manhunt, is to be prosecuted on a charge of kidnapping the Carl Mosser family, department of justice officials said in Washington Tuesday night.

Cook contends he can remember nothing about the Carl Mosser family he is accused of slaying.

The bodies of the five members of the Mosser family were found Monday in an abandoned mine shaft near Cook's former home in Joplin, Mo., at about the same moment the capture of the desperado was announced in Mexico.

Kidnap Charge. Cook, 23-year-old Missouri ex-convict and Bay Area, Calif., dishwasher before he became a hunted desperado, was quickly reported from Mexico Monday after his capture in Lower California.

The FBI arraigned him here on federal charges of Lindbergh law kidnapping and flight to avoid prosecution for murder and robbery.

U. S. Attorney Robert E. Shelton at Oklahoma City arraigned a warrant to California for Cook's return to Oklahoma for prosecution there on the kidnapping charge. It carries a possible death penalty.

He is also wanted in California, on a charge of murdering Robert E. Breyer, 33, Seattle salesman. It was the basis for the federal murder-flight arraignment.

Reject Kuehner's Claim

"Frankly, I'm disappointed that either the county clerk or others didn't point out the difference," Brehm had stated on his signature. He gave no statement in this regard.

Backroom Talk

The rejection did not come until after the commissioners took to the back room after discussing the issue several minutes. On returning to the meeting room, the claim was promptly rejected.

This may infer that Kuehner decided his future course of action in the backroom parley.

He could (1) submit a claim for $200 or (2) submit such a claim and an additional claim for $50 or (3) do either and appeal to the District court from Tuesday's rejection. Until he files a claim for the $200, he will not be paid.

Legality Questioned.

Until the $250 claim was rejected Tuesday, it was left hanging in mid-air, with only Brehm's signature upon it. It takes two to approve a claim.

The issue centered around legality of the rejected claim. The state constitution provides no county elective officer shall get an increase or decrease of salary during his term of office. The 1949 legislature increased such salaries—the commissioners from $2,400 to $3,000 yearly.

Since Brehm's and Barney's terms began the past Jan. 4, they are eligible, but Kuehner's four-year term began in 1948. He is still serving the same term of office he was at the time the legislature granted the increases.

L. E. Aylesworth, retired professor, and J. G. W. Lewis, of the Governmental Research Institute, appeared at the meeting to vigorously protest the salary claim.

Both pointed to the state constitution and the recent Supreme court decision that denied a county supervisor an increase in a similar case.

World War I Vet Praises Hadacol

HADACOL Supplies Vitamins B1, B2, Niacin and Iron Which His System Lacked.

This little space is to be read by those folks who are always wishing they'd feel better. Now, this business of wishing for "this" and wishing for "that" is all right. It sort of makes a person look to the future. But it is a mighty sorry state of affairs when folks keep wishing and wishing they would feel better.

That just doesn't get the job done. Take Leo D. Fisher, 901 Charles Street, St. Joseph, Missouri, for example. He just didn't wish he would feel better—he did something about it. He took HADACOL, and says he feels just fine for Mr. Fisher found that taking HADACOL helped his system overcome deficiencies of Vitamins B1, B2, Niacin and Iron, which HADACOL contains.

Here is Mr. Fisher's own statement: "I am a veteran of World War I. I have had stomach distress and was nervous and could not sleep. I had no appetite and could not eat any fried foods. I started taking HADACOL. I have taken 8 small bottles and now I am on my second large bottle. I eat anything. I feel fine and sleep good, thanks to HADACOL. I have recommended HADACOL to many people and they are taking it. I am a booster, for I cannot do without it."

Solons Are Entertained By Realtors

Nebraska legislators and their wives were honored at a dinner Tuesday night at the Cornhusker, given by the Nebraska Real Estate Association.

The dinner, at which no formal speeches were made, was the close of a one-day school for real estate license applicants. Some discussion was held on legislation of interest to the association.

Approximately 65 persons attended the school. It is held every two months, alternating between Lincoln and North Platte.

Instructors for the school were: Wayne Selby, Omaha; J. B. Hillers, Hastings; C. R. Christian, Omaha; and Spencer Flint, Omaha.

The association, beginning its seventh year of sponsorship, expects about 80 applicants to take state real estate exams Wednesday.

Ervin W. Luedtke, executive vice president of the association and director of the state real estate commission, was in charge of the school.

Draft Signing By Medics Runs High

More medical men registered in Nebraska Monday than was expected.

State selective service headquarters said the registration figure stood at 696, with 67 out of 96 draft boards reporting. Officials had estimated about 500 would register.

A selective service spokesman said the final count would be about 750.

Required to register were all doctors, dentists and veterinarians under 50 years of age who had not previously registered.

Of the 696, 426 were doctors, 193 dentists and 77 were veterinarians.

The state's October registration figure was 151. In that month, all doctors, dentists and veterinarians who had been schooled at government expense or deferred from military duty to complete their education had to register.

Populous Douglas county reported the highest registration with 271. Lancaster county followed with 98.

Capital Fire Has Record 1950 Year

Capital Fire Insurance company reported its largest premium volume during 1950 at the policyholders' annual meeting Tuesday.

Premiums were about five per cent above the preceding year. Assets increased $100,000 to a total of $900,000, and surplus rose $74,000 to $410,000. Losses paid to and for policyholders totaled $19,000.

John F. Zimmer, sr., was re-elected president-treasurer. Other officers re-named were: T. A. Engles, Auburn, vice president; John F. Zimmer, jr., secretary; R. J. Easley and E. W. Truman, directors; and David E. Harnly, assistant secretary.

The company's total assets at the end of the year, policyholders were told, were divided like this: cash 18.3 per cent; agents' balances 4.6 per cent; mortgage loans 7.1 per cent; bonds 57.7 per cent; stocks 4.3 per cent; real estate 6.9 per cent; and miscellaneous 1.1 per cent.

Seek Double Retirement For Teachers

Revenue From Tax On Soft Drinks Is Carson Proposal

BY ARCH DONOVAN (Star Staff Writer)

Retirement benefits for teachers would be doubled under a bill introduced Tuesday. Maximum yearly payments would be $720 instead of the present $360.

Sens. Carson, Hern and Peterson introduced the measure.

The state last year paid out of tax funds $117,116 to the 13,000 retired school employees of the state. There is another estimated 900 eligible for pensions but continuing to work.

Awaiting Study Results. Sen. Hugh Carson, with a dour expression on his face, said that he had not yet obtained results of a study being made on how much additional cost will result if the bill passes. He indicated that in his opinion the bill probably would fail to muster sufficient votes.

However, he explained, that the chances of the bill were enhanced by the fact that he introduced a companion bill that would provide revenue for the increased retirement costs.

The other bill provides a tax on soft drinks. One tax would be 38 cents a gallon on syrups used in preparation of soft drinks. It would also levy a one cent tax on each five cents of the sale price of bottled soft drinks.

"The distributors of bottled soft drinks have been asking congress for a seven and a half cent piece to use in their dispensers of drinks," Sen. Carson said. "They have now advanced the price to 10 cents because there is no smaller unit of coin. With the two cent tax, they will still be getting one-half cent more than they have been advocating."

Sen. Carson predicted that this bill would also encounter considerable opposition because the revenue is earmarked for the school retirement fund. Several other senators did not agree.

His Conviction Stemmed from a Projection

By J. Gordon Roberts

When I once worked as a cub reporter, I encountered a man just released from the state penitentiary.

In an interview, he belittled and denounced society in about every conceivable manner. He described society as though it were some woman who had unexpectedly jilted him.

At no part of his interview did he consider society as a group of individuals, all of whom must share responsibility in maintaining the welfare of the group as a whole.

A democratic form of government which actually functions as a democratic form of government is the most rational of all governmental forms. It allows for no irrational projection of a non-existent separate entity of State. Rather it requires a brotherhood of mankind in which each citizen assumes the maximum responsibility for the creative use of his own capacities.

When States are projected as all-powerful entities in themselves, rather than to serve the citizen, wars appear to be inevitable.

When a State is worshipped as an entity within itself, politicians are, in effect, regarded at least as demi-gods, as in totalitarian countries today. A man's official authority and his capacities are considered to be equivalent; "The King can do no wrong."

If I pay a good house-painter $100,000 to paint a portrait, I do not thereby turn him into a Rembrandt.

If I, thinking wishfully, invest an average sort of good fellow in political office with the capacity to provide for all my wants without any responsibility on my own part, I am not only thinking irrationally, but also I am helping spread the rot of decay.

Rites Here For G. Allen, Crash Victim

Gerald Allen, 31, furnace salesman formerly of Lincoln and Beatrice, was killed and three other persons were injured Monday in a traffic accident at Hutchinson, Kas.

Two passenger cars and a truck were involved in the crash, an Associated Press dispatch revealed.

Leo Letterman, 29, also a furnace salesman from Lincoln, was among those injured. Others hurt were Mrs. Betty Muller, 29, Wichita, Kas., driver of the other car, and her eight-year-old son, Lars. All three were hospitalized for serious injuries. Stephan Muller, eight months old, escaped injury.

Allen is survived by his wife, who is staying with her parents in Lincoln, and three children, Gerald, 7; Judith, 5, and Sharon, 3.

Funeral services will be held in Lincoln Friday.

He is survived by his wife, Alice, Lincoln; two daughters, Mrs. John Holberg and Mrs. Jane Street, both of San Diego, Calif.; a son Andrew W., Falls City; two

Feeble-minded Exam Praised

Nebraska's board of examiners of mental defectives drew the praise of Dr. Clarence J. Gamble, Milton, Mass., at a tea given Tuesday afternoon by the Human Betterment League at the home of Mrs. Robert Sorensen, 1745 Euclid.

"During 1950 the petitions for sterilization of 51 feeble-minded Nebraskans were approved by the board," he said.

"Without protection from parenthood it is probable that many of these would not have been released from the Beatrice State home."

51 Operations Last Year

The 51 sterilizations last year, Dr. Gamble continued, will probably prevent the birth of 37 feeble-minded children in Nebraska.

"As there are more than 260 new feeble-minded in the state each year," he added, "sterilization at the 1950 rate will not, however, keep up with the need for protection of this group. When more people understand the protective value of sterilization and the fact that it involves no sexual sacrifice, there will be even greater use of this protection."

The Human Betterment League of Nebraska is interested in the prevention of insanity and mental deficiency and in letting the public know the benefits of protective sterilization, Dr. Gamble explained.

There were 554 sterilizations in Nebraska since passage of the law in 1929, not within the past two years as previously stated.

AMERICA'S SURVIVAL BUDGET

Something of the hysterical, supercharged atmosphere of Washington made itself known through newspaper headlines here in Lincoln, in the heart of America, 1,500 miles from the national capital.

President Truman's new multi-billion-dollar fiscal program submitted to the 82nd congress was called "a survival budget." It contemplated a spending program for 1952 aggregating 71.6 billion dollars, which, if the nation places itself upon a pay-as-you-go basis, means that the American people to the last man and woman will have to dig deeper into the pocketbook for an estimated 16 to 20 billion dollars in new taxes.

We had been warned of austerity. We had been told it would be necessary for all of us to tighten our belts, to go without many of the things to which we are accustomed, to sacrifice our comforts and our conveniences; and in millions of cases, we fear, what have become necessities of American living.

Frankly, the time has arrived for the American people to put themselves to hard thinking. No one is stupid enough to assume that with communism on the march throughout the world, this is a normal era. But in this column for days now, we have been talking about the insatiable appetite of that frightful giant known to all peoples and all history as "my highly competitive armament race." Through the failure of the press, and even more, through the failure of congress, we never have come to close grips with this matter of initiating an interminable, competitive armament race. Both in the house and in the senate, men have talked glibly about the mistakes which have been made by the American leadership. The greatest mistake of all that can be made by the American people will be to dedicate their energies, their resources, their productive or creative abilities to 25 years of building of weapons of destruction. That is folly, sheer insanity, the height of blundering. The budget of course, dealt only with the next 12 months.

This paper rarely has found what it considered sound reasoning for commending a son of the hallowed old state of Virginia, Senator Harry Byrd, a democrat. It has no sympathy for Senator Byrd's continuing opposition to domestic reforms due, and long overdue in American life. America moves ahead in spite of the Byrds, because progress, embracing progress in government, and in private life, is the rule of life. But this newspaper thinks that Senator Byrd spoke a mouthful when he branded the president's budget as the "height of fiscal responsibility." It will be admitted that the cost of modern warfare in a scientific age baffles the imagination. The cost of outfitting a single foot soldier is staggering. The price of warfare involving airplanes, tanks, other mechanized equipment, and deadly bombs, is incredibly high. No civilian, without military experience, untutored and unlettered in modern warfare, is in a position to express any judgment upon military needs.

That civilian does have in his experience, something that is vital to American life. He knows that all of the glory it reflects can be attributed first to the fact that it was dedicated to human freedom, and second, that it never at any time (except for brief emergencies) was created in the image of a government in which the military was dominant.

A few have spoken to the editor in the belief that at times he has been unfair in comment to Senator Wherry. It did not take a great deal of intelligence to discern the direction in which America was heading. The Wherrys and the McCarthys were yapping. They were filling the air with demands that we do this or do that. In the end, it all adds up to one thing. We enter upon the greatest armament race the world has seen—and incidentally, a race in which the American people are at a disadvantage against Russia's slave labor, or Russia's "cheap" labor and Russia's cheap materials.

For the time being, there is no other course for any freedom-loving American to follow except to respond to every demand made upon him by his government—to pay through the nose—to sacrifice—to stand solidly back of that government in every sense. If the military men tell us they cannot do their job for fewer billions than set forth in Mr. Truman's budget message, then that is it. But from now on, debate on American policy—the "Great Debate," as it is called in the news columns—should not be limited solely to whether we should have subsidized Chiang Kai-shek—whether we should have done something we did not do—or something that we did do that we should not have done.

What kind of America do we want? What land do we see for ourselves and for our children? What shall be the shape and form of American life? We speak of survival. America will survive. Make no mistake about that.

While reading the president's budget message, the thought came that in the torment of the American Revolution, a wealthy American sacrificed his fortune for human freedom. We will make every reasonable sacrifice which we are called upon to make. This merely is to say that the hour has arrived when we should consider seriously whether its present hysterical fears are committing us to the permanent design of a great military power; and if that is it, then this is one humble, small protest.

A Guest Editorial

R. E. Campbell... "Letting Down Trouser's Hem"...

Editor's note: This is the third of a series of guest editorials which will appear in the new morning Lincoln Star from time to time. Each editorial will discuss phases of pertinent national or local problems. Mr. Campbell needs no introduction to Nebraskans. He is president of Miller & Paine, an active, energetic, most capable community leader. He has filled countless civic assignments in the most unselfish, public-spirited labors.

Visitors to Lincoln are frequently highly complimentary about the appearance of our city. They admire our fine schools and churches, our attractive homes, modern, up-to-date business buildings and our wide streets.

These are all outward evidences of an alert, intelligent and prosperous people. These are the surface indications of a deep consciousness of the need for a secure and safe community in which to raise our families.

We are proud of our position as the capital city of the state. We try to live up to our responsibilities and obligations as a host to our friends and neighbors in the state.

We generously support community, state, and national appeals such as Community Chest and the Red Cross.

All these virtues, and more, are to be found in our fair city.

But Lincoln is now in the position of the growing boy whose trousers are too short and it seems to Mother that she "just can't let them out fast enough." Lincoln has grown by leaps and bounds in the ten years since 1940—grown nearly 20,000 in population and substantially in area.

Several large industrial concerns have found Lincoln a desirable place in which to locate branch manufacturing plants. We welcome this diversification of our economy which in the past has been so largely dependent upon the prosperity of agriculture. Thus, with all the new building during the past few years, we have more resources to help build a better city.

But, unfortunately, we can't use our full resource strength because of the dollar limitation imposed by our city charter on city tax funds. Briefly, this permits an increase of only $15,000 tax levy a year whereas our population growth has brought needs for city services far greater than can be provided on this relatively small increase. This is not the time or place to fully discuss these limitations. Suffice it to say that we can't let down the trouser hem fast enough.

This poses a basic question.

Are we willing to pay for the kind of Lincoln that will induce our children to live here after they are grown up? Only you can answer that question.

But you can only answer intelligently after the needs of the city have been fully explained. This explanation can best come from informed sources in the city administration.

Between now and the city election this spring,

There are some city needs that are desirable but postponable—there are others that cannot safely be postponed. It is obviously "penny wise and pound foolish" not to provide adequate funds for needed repair and maintenance of city property, parks and streets or for increased fire and police protection. However, on the other hand, the present national emergency may delay certain capital expenditures.

No Action On 'Early' School Age

Would Allow Child Six By Jan. 1 Start

The legislature's education committee took no action Tuesday afternoon on a bill permitting children to enter first grade at an earlier age.

The committee held the bill over for further consideration after a public hearing.

The proposal would permit a child to enter the first grade if he is six years of age or will be six by Jan. 1 of the current school year.

Present law requires that a child be six years of age or reach that age by Oct. 15.

Would Equalize

The measure is designed to better equalize ages of children in the same classes, Senator Frank Nelson, O'Neill, said. Nelson introduced the bill.

Some schools are ignoring the law as it now stands, Nelson asserted.

An amendment, requiring children reaching six between Oct. 15 and Jan. 1 pass an examination before being allowed to enter the first grade, was suggested by W. G. Hauser, Douglas county superintendent.

This proposal was backed by Miss Lillian L. Larson, Dodge county superintendent.

Nelson, however, strongly objected to the proposal.

'Hold-Up'

He pointed out that a $5 fee is charged the parents for the examination and termed this a "hold-up." Nelson said he did not want to "soak" his constituents $5 for allowing their children to go to school.

The committee referred two bills to general file. They were: LB 11—Correcting school district bond law.

LB 27—Reconciling inconsistency in regard of treasurer of school districts in class V.

The public health committee sent to general file these bills:

LB 18—Requiring reporting of injuries to animals to the health department instead of the Nebraska State Humane society.

LB 55—Repeals sections relating to state officers.

LB 58—Providing the number

Guard Units Told To Hold 12 Extra Drills Before July

OMAHA.—(AP) — Nebraska National Guard units have been ordered to include 12 extra drills in their training schedules between now and July 1.

Capt. Mel Murphy, commander of the Omaha headquarters company of the 34th infantry division said this word has been received by the seven Omaha units and the remainder of the state's garrisons.

The drills, part of a stepped up preparedness training program, will be in addition to the regular weekly drill periods. They will be held on week-ends.

By comparison with the regular two-hour weekly drill period, the additional drills will run a minimum of four hours. They will be broken down into four garrisons, four range and four outdoor problem training sessions.

For each extra drill period, a guardsman will receive a day's pay. Capt. Murphy said there is one drawback. No funds have been allotted for meals, so his

New Highs Paid During Stock Show

Hershey, Neb., Men Have Champion Hogs

DENVER.—(AP) —Last year's high price was topped Tuesday as purebred Hereford bulls went on sale at the national western stock show.

G. C. Parker, Tulsa, Okla., paid $25,100 for MW Larry Domino 172nd from Milky Way Hereford ranch, Phoenix, Ariz.—$100 more than the 1950 top.

Parker's ranch is at Chelsea, Okla.

Peterson brothers, Ogden, Utah, bought MW Larry Domino 89th from Francis Miller, Hayden, Colo., for $18,100.

The first 10 of 199 bulls brought an average of $7,445, but later sales were expected to lower it near last year's $2,369 average.

May Be Barometer

The Hereford sale, the first of the year, and one of the largest in the nation, is regarded by many stockmen as a barometer of purebred cattle prices for the year.

Mobilization Effects In State Are Outlined

Water Lack Threatening Wheat Crop

Corn Men Grieving Of Car Shortage

A few counties in southwest Nebraska are expecting some damage to late-sown wheat fields, due to lack of moisture, the state-federal division of agricultural statistics declared Tuesday.

Other western areas are concerned by the dry weather's probable effect on wheat, rye and fall sown legumes and grasses, the weekly crop-weather report stated.

And added to this were the continued gripes of corn men about the lack of shipping cars for their grain.

The report today said "a few counties report the moisture content still too high for corn to be accepted under the commodity loan and those counties are eager to sell their corn. In some counties there is a good demand for feeding purposes."

Spuds Move
Potatoes continued to move at a rapid rate.

Echoing the defense situation were these reports:

Some counties are showing a shortage of labor. A few see a shortage when spring work time comes. Farmers are repairing old farm machinery in anticipation of storage of new machinery. But there was a cheerful note

—the fall and winter season so far has been highly favorable for livestock.

It has enabled farmers to get to cheaper gains, even with some complaint that soft corn was not bringing satisfactory gains. And open range has saved much of the hay supply.

The only spot reporting any precipitation for the week ending Monday was Valentine, in the central division, with .01 of an inch.

WASHINGTON—(AP)—The housing and home finance agency has approved a $500 loan for planning a $32,300 water facility-iron removal plant at Leigh, Neb.

Farm Help '51 Picture Tightens

Associated Industries Group Told

A National Production Authority spokesman told Nebraska's small businessmen Tuesday afternoon that a World War II condition—when 1,000,000 small manufacturers closed down and only 500,000 new ones crept back in—should not happen in the present defense program.

J. L. Kelly, acting director of the NPA's small business office in Washington, D.C., was the lead-off speaker of the Associated Industries of Nebraska's statewide mobilization conference held at the Cornhusker hotel.

During the business session preceding the conference, E. T. Rainey, Omaha, was re-elected president.

New directors elected were John Agee, Lincoln; Vern Anderson, Hastings; John Grainger, Lincoln; and Guy Williams, Omaha.

The speaker outlined the mobilization effects this way:

"Defense requirements will siphon off part of the civilian production; resulting shortages will cause inflation and unemployment in some areas; and there will be a time lag between material freezes and awarding of defense contracts. The greatest effect will be felt by the small businessman."

To combat these adverse effects, so that small business will be around when needed, Kelly said of steps being taken and promised others were in study.

Because most of the prime contracts in the last war were awarded in the first 18 months to big industries and small businessmen were lost in the shuffle, Kelly said his office has a two-point program:

1. Distribution of bid information for non-security items to small industries.
2. Distribution of information of successful prime contractors so that sub-contractors may negotiate with the contractor as to the awarded contract or future ones.

The trend already is from competitive bids to negotiated work, but the remedy is to list prime contracts for possible sub-contracts.

His office will not "spoon-feed" individuals, Kelly said, but services will be available for those who want to "sell the best product at a low price to the government."

Shifting the mobilization picture to manpower, John C. Laferty, of the Office of Defense Manpower representative, said "the mobility of American labor is in a sense a secret weapon."

"In the last war one-third of the labor force shifted occupations. Coupled with this ability is an example in the automobile industry, where production was increased 22 per cent with only 15 per cent more workers."

"America's industrial potential is limited only by its manpower. While the unemployed reserve is less now than at the beginning of World War II, the increase of worker skills and technical ability will off-set this," he said.

Farm First Affected
Farm labor has been decreasing with technical improvements, but the farm labor picture will be tight by mid-1951 and tighter as more workers are needed for defense work, Laferty said.

Agriculture will be the first to feel the shortage and should make use of all new labor saving devices.

Annual Crop Improvement Day Jan. 29

Several Nebraskans will be honored during the annual crop improvement day program Monday, January 29, at the University of Nebraska college of agriculture.

C. R. Porter, secretary-manager of the Nebraska Crop Improvement association said there will be the annual presentation of the premier seed producer award, the crop improvement award along with the presentation of the winners of the state wheat mill "and baking contest."

Farmers attending the meeting will be welcomed by NCIA President D. C. Lubberts of Waterloo at 9:30 a.m. There will be discussions of research underway on crops and seed certification, Raymond Sawyer of Shenandoah, Ia., will discuss production and distribution of certified seed at 1 p.m. Other speakers during the afternoon include Dr. T. A. Kieselbach, Dr. L. C. Newell and Porter, all of the University of Nebraska.

St. Paul Flier Returns To News

OMAHA.—(AP)—The flight of B-36s from Texas to England put back in the news one of Nebraska's more celebrated airmen—Brig. Gen. Clarence S. Irvine of St. Paul, Neb.

General Irvine was one of the behind-the-scenes men who planned the flight under the eyes of Lt. Gen. Curtis E. LeMay, Commander of the strategic air command. Irvine is commanding general of the Carswell air force base in Texas, from where the flight originated.

General Irvine is known best as pilot of the B-29 Pacusan Dreamboat which set postwar distance record flights in 1945 and 1946.

Rectory Mortgage Burning Is Slated

GRAND ISLAND, Neb.—Burning of the mortgage on Beecher house, the rectory of St. Stephen's Episcopal church here, will take place at the church's annual meeting this month.

The mortgage was written in 1943 as the last step in a campaign to raise the necessary purchase price of $68,000, all but the last $2,500 of which had been raised in gifts and pledges.

Getty Honored By National Guard

NORTH PLATTE, Neb.—(AP)—The second annual "Businessman of the Year" award, presented by Third battalion headquarters company of the National Guard here, went to R. L. Getty, editor of the North Platte Telegraph-Bulletin.

He was named at an award banquet held here. Attending were Gov. Val Peterson, city and county officials and National Guard state leaders.

Getty was honored for promoting the guard and its activities in the community through editorials and news coverage.

Gov. Peterson, speaker of the evening, complimented the local unit for sponsoring the banquet, which he felt tended to knit in closer bond businessmen and the National Guard.

He approved President Truman's stand in Korea as it was "better to stand up someplace rather than to yield, concede, vacillate as we have done before this minute."

An award to the outstanding guardsman of headquarters company was presented to Sgt. Virgil L. Rodgers, North Platte, by Col. Barlow Nye, commander of the 134th infantry regiment.

Weaver Renamed To Drainage District

FALLS CITY, Neb.—(AP). Larry M. Weaver of the Verdona area has been re-elected to the board of supervisors of the Pioneer Drainage district of Nebraska.

Included in the district are 30,000 acres of the rich Nemaha bottoms from a point south of Dawson to southeast of Rulo, where the river empties into the Missouri river.

The district was created in 1905 and now has but five years to run.

Other members of the board are Gene Dowell, Falls City; E. H. Towle, Falls City; C. R. Fouraker, Salem, and H. C. Zoeller, Preston.

Truman Recommendations Affect Nebraska Projects

Nebraska projects affected by President Truman's recommendation for a stepped up program for flood control and a curtailed schedule for reclamation work in the Missouri river basin area included:

Gavins Point—Multiple-purpose reservoir in Nebraska and South Dakota, given recommendation for $5,000,000 appropriation. It is a major unit in the Missouri river flood control program.

Bostwick division, Nebraska-Kansas—$1,982,000 for construction of the superior laterals, completion of the Nebraska portion of the Courtland laterals and other work.

Frenchman-Cambridge division, Nebraska-Kansas—$8,400,108 to continue work on the Trenton dam, the Cambridge canal and Cambridge lateral system.

Bridgeport and Ogallala Substation—Completion of this project recommended.

Fort Randall—$34,699,000 to continue work on reservoir in South Dakota. It is expected to be 73 per cent complete by June 30, 1952.

Osceola Plans For Annual Farmers Day

OSCEOLA, Neb.—The second annual Farmers day will be held at the Osceola school auditorium, February 15. The ladies will have their own program at the Methodist church.

Farmers day is sponsored by the Osceola chamber of commerce, the Polk County Crop Improvement association district. A noon luncheon will be provided by the chamber of commerce.

Farm management and a forage clinic are scheduled for the morning session, with lectures, an extension meeting and demonstrations set for the afternoon program.

J. Carder Throckmorton, Polk county agent, said the Farmers day will start about 9:30 and wind up about 3:30 p. m.

THE MEN IN OUR LIVES

When Grandpa Was A Boy

WE TRIED THE MENTAL ADDITION of a mustache on the serious young man in that elaborate chair that once was a must in all "best photographers" studios—Somehow, we couldn't manage—But we will tell you that he wears one now. Of course the two grandchildren are a dead give-away—One look at them and our grandpa is no mystery whatever.

Anyway, we present him as he was at about the tender age of—Oh, well—why guess? Anyway, he was younger than his older grandson, and not so young as the younger—Dresses, you see, were what the well-dressed Mister Smalley wore in those days.

Even at such an early age our grandpa had his wits about him, judging from the expression on his face—You just knew that "there was a young man who would get ahead in the world."

As popular as he is we believe his two most ardent admirers are the two grandsons—and of course you know who they are—Jamie and Bobby Kelso—sons of Mr. and Mrs. James Kelso of Rochester, N. Y.—who, at this moment are visiting at the home of their grandfather—C. W. D. Kinsey.

Book Review

For Study Club

The members of the Tuesday Review club met for a 1 o'clock luncheon on Tuesday at the Hotel Cornhusker after which a review of the book, "The World Is A Bridge," was given by Mrs. C. B. Anderson.

Hostess for the affair was Mrs. Herbert Brownell.

social club

The regular meeting of the Priscilla club will be held at 1:30 o'clock, Thursday, at the home of Mrs. Louisa Milow, 1426 South Thirteenth street.

Following luncheon, the afternoon hours will be spent informally.

New Members Of Altrusa

At the regular Monday evening meeting of the Lincoln Altrusa club, held at the University Club, the following new members were initiated into the organization: Mrs. Myrtle Kline, Mrs. Esther Hutto, Miss Helen Stacy, Miss Jessie Vetter and Mrs. Virginia Roberts.

Guests of the club for dinner were Mr. and Mrs. Charles Dalrymple, and following the short meeting, the group went to the Lincoln city library where Mr. Dalrymple, librarian, gave a talk on, "Behind the Scenes at the Public Library."

Explaining to the group how the three hundred new books arriving each month are carefully processed and indexed, Mr. Dalrymple said that there are 134,000 volumes in the main library with 170,000 books in the entire system. Total circulation for the past year was 430,000.

Beta Sigma Phi Informal Party

An informal, "fun-night" party for members of the Lincoln chapters of Beta Sigma Phi, business girls' sorority, was held Monday evening at the Unitarian church with over one hundred in attendance.

Appropriately costumed for a "nautical" evening, the members spent the evening hours with games followed by a program of entertainment.

Refreshments were served by the hostess committee, Mrs. Harold Crawford and Mrs. Alfred Hanslick, chairman.

Good Morning

YWCA Names New Officers On Tuesday

Members of the Y.W.C.A. board of trustees met Tuesday morning at the Y.W.C.A. to elect new officers for the coming year. Named chairman of the board was Joseph W. Seacrest and secretary will be Mrs. C. Myron Loomis. Mrs. Don Stewart was elected to fill a vacancy on the board.

Presiding at the meeting was H. B. Smith, and included on the agenda was a discussion of the possibility of supplementing the gift for the installation of an elevator at the Y.W.C.A. Leading the discussion were Mrs. F. R. Woodring, president of the board of directors, and Mrs. Vance Traphagen, finance chairman. A committee was appointed by the board to further study the question.

Other members of the board of trustees include James N. Ackerman, George Knight, E. W. Miskell, Mrs. Jean R. Kinder, Mrs. J. A. McEachen and Miss Teresa McKenna, executive director of the Y.W.C.A.

It's A Good Day For Good News

NEWS CAN AND DOES COME from the most unexpected places—Sometimes you open a letter (as we did) and find all sort of interesting things in it—For instance, in a note from Mrs. Herman Jobst, who has just returned to San Francisco after a holiday visit in Lincoln, we learned that she ran into Mr. and Mrs. Tom Hord of Alliance, in the lobby of San Francisco's Fairmont hotel—The Hords are attending the American National Livestock association in San Francisco and, we were told, also looking over Mills college in Oakland where Miss Jerdi Hord plans to attend school next year.

MAIL FROM SAN FRANCISCO reminded us that Mrs. W. Irl Stebbins should be arriving home soon—She is on Thursday.

CAN'T LEAVE CALIFORNIA, though, until we tell you that Mr. and Mrs. Warren Day, who have been on the west coast for the past ten days, will sail today (Wednesday) for Hawaii—Mr. and Mrs. Day plan to return home either in late January or early February—probably in February.

THERE ALWAYS IS SOMETHING that reminds us of something else—Hawaii, for example, brings to mind Mrs. Joyce Limprecht who returned on Monday after a five weeks stay in Honolulu as the guest of her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Dwain Limprecht. Mrs. Limprecht traveled to the islands on the SS Lurline, but planned home.

LEARNED FROM SOMEONE or other, that Mrs. Arthur L. Smith was hostess-ing the members of her bridge club at luncheon on Thursday—

AND THEN WE HEARD THAT ten members of a former high school crowd—all out of college at this time—would be meeting at the home of Mrs. Nancy Lawlor for a covered dish dinner on Monday evening.

THE WYLIES—Mr. and Mrs. J. A.—who have been holidaying in Palm Springs, Cal., will be turning homeward next mid-week—They plan to arrive on Saturday, January 27.

FOUND SOME INTERESTING guests in town—Dr. and Mrs. Frederick Wright (he is on the faculty at Washington university, St. Louis) are guests at the home of their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Homer Wright, Dr. and Mrs. Wright spent the summer in Europe, and this is their first visit in Lincoln since their return.

On Tuesday evening Mr. and Mrs. Wright entertained informally at their home, complimenting the visitors.

OFF TO OMAHA today to attend a luncheon for which Mrs. H. R. Brinker, wife of the Episcopal bishop of this diocese, will be hostess, will go to Mrs. David Gracey, Mrs. William Paul Barnds and Mrs. L. W. McMillin.

THERE SEEMED TO BE a slight difference of opinion in Delta Gamma circles as to where the Saturday luncheon meeting really would be held—Our first communique said Mrs. Ellery Hall Davis—the second one stated that the luncheon would be at the home of Mrs. James Stuart—communique No. 3 takes it back to the home of Mrs. Davis.

LEAVING EARLY ON SATURDAY morning for California will be Mr. and Mrs. Fred R. Easterday who plan to spend two months visiting their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Dan Easterday, in North Hollywood. The travelers will return home by way of San Francisco. Incidentally—thought you might be interested in knowing that Dan Easterday is associated with the public trust department of the Bank of America in Los Angeles.

During the absence of Mr. and Mrs. Easterday, their new home on Calvert street will be occupied by Mrs. Easterday's mother, Mrs. Jennie Bowen, and her sister, Miss Bess Bowen.

TWO GO—TWO COME—and our comers are Mrs. L. D. Lampert (Sidney Ann Gardner) and her young daughter, Ann, who arrive from Idaho Falls, Idaho, on Sunday morning to spend a few weeks in Lincoln.

WHOOOPS—P.S. ON THAT NOTE FROM Mrs. Herman Jobst—Mrs. Jobst told us she had just had a letter from Captain George Royal—son of Dr. and Mrs. Paul Royal of Lincoln—He is in Pusan, Korea.

SOMEONE TOLD US that Mrs. Charles Paine of Grand Island is spending a day or two in Lincoln, visiting her father, the Rev. Samuel Beechner, and her brothers and sisters-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Beechner and Mr. and Mrs. Milton Beechner.

HOME AGAIN ON MONDAY were Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Baldwin who returned from Ainsworth where they spent the week-end with Mr. Baldwin's family.

APROPOS OF WEEK-ENDS—and the forthcoming one—Judge and Mrs. John W. Yeager will spend it in Omaha where they will be guests at two parties.

DID YOU KNOW THAT Mr. and Mrs. Chalmers Seymour were moving into the duplex currently occupied by Mr. and Mrs. John Boman—as soon as the Boman's move to their farm home two miles south of Denton? Mr. Boman, who is in the cattle business with his father, has been commuting the fourteen miles twice daily.

NEW VEL* ENDS 90% OF DISHWASHING WORK!

"I just soak and rinse...dishes gleam without washing or wiping!"

says MRS. CHARLES JAMES NOTH of Madison, Wisconsin

"When I soak dishes a while in Vel suds, most of them soak clean; even the stickiest need only a touch of a dishcloth. Then I rinse and the dishes shine and the glassware sparkles without washing or wiping! My pots and pans soak so clean in Vel suds...no hard scouring is needed."

*VEL is the trade mark of the Colgate-Palmolive-Peet Co.

NO WIPING!

Dishes rinse shiny clean!

Take dishes from suds, and rinse. Notice how even the greasy dishes soak clean! Dishes and glassware shine like jewels without wiping!

NO SCOURING!

Pots and pans soak clean!

Soak pots and pans in Vel suds. Then you can wash most shiny clean without scouring! Vel slashes grease faster; leaves water grease-free!

NO WASHING!

Dishes soak clean in new Vel!

Scrape dishes...and soak 'em a while in Vel suds. Yes, silver and glassware, too. Most dishes soak clean in a jiffy...practically "do" themselves!

NEW VEL IS THE BEST FRIEND MY HANDS EVER HAD! ITS SO MILD...AND MY HANDS ARE IN DISHWATER SO LITTLE!

NEW VEL IS MILD. Your hands are safe in mild, new Vel suds and so are your daintiest washables. When you use Vel, there is no soap suds to dull delicate colors.

IT'S A NEW VEL! Better than ever!

Nothing To Lose... But Weight

Our "Reducer's Cook Book," gives us another 1100 calorie menu today—and already we are hungry—for the broiled lamb chop—Somehow or other we've never had a feeling for chard—Swiss, or otherwise, but we hear that there are those who really enjoy spinach—so perhaps the chard also will be popular.
